Parent Conference 2010
“Focus on the Future: Learning Opportunities for Gifted Children”

The First Conference ever to be held for Parents of Gifted Children in the Greater Chinese Region

The Hong Kong Academy for Gifted Education (HKAGE) seeks to rally the community and various stakeholders to provide a more conducive environment to nurture gifted learners. The HKAGE recognises the essential supportive role of parents in nurturing their gifted children and understands that they require adequate information about various learning opportunities in order to make informed decisions to help stretch their children's potential.

With the aims of informing and engaging parents and future leaders, we are proud to bring to this community a parent conference which is the first of its kind to be held in the Greater Chinese Region. The main objectives are to inform the parents about the learning opportunities relevant to gifted learners and their education and to raise the profile of the importance of gifted education in Hong Kong.

The 2010 HKAGE Parent Conference will put together a rich programme comprising seminars by experts, sharing by practitioners, and an exhibition to showcase various learning opportunities and strategies parents could use in shaping their children's learning and development.

The theme of the conference, “Focus on the Future: Learning Opportunities for Gifted Children”, aspires to providing rich information in one setting for parents. About 300 participants will have the opportunity to attend the conference.

The media is cordially invited to attend this conference. Please register at the Conference Registration counter for Media on 4/F of the venue by 1.15 p.m. Thank you.
