

香港資優教育學院
The Hong Kong Academy for Gifted Education

Nomination Form

GE IDENTIFICATION: GE STUDENT OBSERVATION FORM

	NO RARELY	SOMETIMES	OFTEN
ABILITY AND/OR ATTRIBUTE
Has above average ability (knowledge, skills and understanding) in the subject i.e. language/number (also evident in a work scrutiny)
Often asks questions of the teacher
Often answers questions
Often knows the answers to questions but does not answer them (or put their hand up) because they are embarrassed or reluctant to call attention to her/himself
Interacts well with others taking on different roles
Has high ability in some subjects and low in others
Works for long periods of time independently
Has a capacity to work quickly and jump stages of learning
Has great curiosity which leads to asks in- depth questions
Has an ability to understand and apply basic and complex issues/concepts/generalizations for their age
Has a tendency to be critical of themselves and others (including staff)
Has the ability to teach themselves (e.g. to read, count, write, ICT, develop new skills) and work independently
Can evaluate their own work, plan a route forward and be reflective about their learning
Has a tendency, particularly in the early years, to work and socialize with older pupils and wanting achieve at their level
Regards learning as play/fun
Has contrasting abilities (e.g. good at reading, wide vocabulary but poor writing)
Has an ability to take a leadership role

香港資優教育學院
The Hong Kong Academy for Gifted Education
Nomination Form

---

Has the ability to concentrate for long periods on an area of personal interest or strength
Has the ability to produce well resolved, ambitious and carefully executed practical work
Can be frustrated by the low expectations of the work, set questions or the teacher (including homework)
Can be frustrated by their inability to reach their own expectations			