Ethical Leadership and Value Study

16 & 17 Aug 2011

Co-organizer:

Stewards Enrichment Practice
Stewards Life Education Project

Deconstruction of Leaders' D.N.A. ?

What are the essential attributes of a leader?
What contributes to the corruption of leadership?

Who is your ideal leader?

Yuan Shikai? Sun Yat-sen?
George W Bush? Barack Obama?

After a long history full of pains and regrets, it is now obvious that power and efficiency should not be the sole issue that concerns a leader, while morality and justice have to be taken as more supreme in many cases. A leader especially an ethical one is not necessarily to be natural-born. He/She should have awareness of personal belief on values and worldview, be conscious of the corresponding limitations, as well as having the willingness to reflect upon them, to broaden his/her personal horizons, and to cope with various dilemmatic situations in leadership context with multiple-perspective thinking.

You, our future community leader,
are sincerely invited to this reflective and explorative experience.

Through Drama Education and Narra-Drama, we communicate verbally and non-verbally on ethical issues from personal to social perspectives.

With less constraints to imprison beliefs and more freedom for creation, we together identify, differentiate and construct our belief and values.

This workshop will lead you to explore and analyze the differences between ethical and non-ethical leadership. It will demonstrate ethical dilemmas in various leadership situations and introduce various moral theories and reasoning skills related to ethical leadership in order to foster the understanding of the importance of ethical leadership and its connection to future success.
