

Leadership in Adversity

Speaker: Mr. Wayne CHAU

As a gifted student, how would you deal with your weaknesses in order to cope with difficult situations? What do you think a good leader should act in time of adversity?

Mr. Wayne CHAU, the awardee of The Hong Kong Young Leader Award in 2007 and Hong Kong Spirit Ambassador in 2010, is going to share with you his story of success. His motto has been inspiring many young people: I am a BALL. The stronger am I hit, the higher is my rebound.

Wayne's story exemplifies the proactive and persistent attitude of Hong Kong people. Moving from Mainland China at his teens, Wayne faced communication barriers, peer discrimination and other difficulties in his early days in Hong Kong. He endeavored to overcome every hurdle and established his own PR company and doubled his business annually in the past few years. As the founder of two charities, Wayne now devotes himself to charitable and community services encouraging others with his experience.

Wayne will inspire the gifted learners the ways of coping and overcoming self limitations in adverse situations. His story will encourage you to think and act positively in responding to challenging circumstances in life.
