Mathematics Talk

Seminar on Smart Investment Strategy

Co-organised by: The City University of Hong Kong and
The Hong Kong Academy for Gifted Education

This seminar aims at introducing management sciences from the perspective of science, as well as exploring the roles of management sciences in investment and finance management.

It is specially designed for the student members of the HKAGE who would like to apply for the coming Credit-bearing Course – “Statistics in Modern Life” in 2010.

Dr. Yan Chong Chan, after graduating from Nanyang Technological University in Singapore with a degree in Mathematics, furthered his studies in England and obtained a Master's Degree in Operational Research at the University of Lancashire and a Doctorate in Management Studies at Manchester University. Dr. Chan has been an advisor to many enterprises and organisations. He has published 13 professional books and more than 3,000 articles, and is a feature column writer for many newspapers and magazines.
