Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the programme, participants should be able to:

1. describe the leadership characters;
2. acquire the skills of developing leadership;
3. enhance the self-esteem of becoming a leader.

◆ Introduction

Have you been a leader before? Are you a good leader?

Leadership has been hailed as one of the most important skills for teenagers in the 21st century, and gifted students generally have higher cognitive abilities and have outstanding achievements in some subjects or areas. Therefore, they are often selected as leaders, class captains, or prefects. The Academy designed the "leadership chat room" based on gifted students' cognitive and whole-person development needs, which let them use high-level thinking and cultivate their emotional qualities at the same time so that they can improve their leadership skills and lead others more effectively.

In this workshop, students will explore the essential elements of being a leader through four areas: teaching, self-assessment questionnaire, experiential activities, and sharing to understand individuals' leadership characteristics, identify the strengths and weaknesses of different leadership styles, and master leadership skills.
