Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the programme, participants should be able to:

1. understand skills important to the learning process including initiative, organisation, and collaboration;
2. learn effective time management and self-care techniques to embrace academic and life challenges; and
3. acquire effective learning strategies to achieve better learning outcomes.

◆ Introduction

This learning engagement programme is developed based on the ideas in positive education, and positive youth development. This programme will allow our gifted students to understand skills important to the learning process including initiative, organisation, and collaboration and to contemplate how these skills can help them to better engage in learning. From the programme, our gifted students will learn different effective time management and self-care skills, find the skills that may suit them, and embrace academic and life challenges with positivity and courage. The programme also aims to help our gifted students to acquire various effective learning strategies, achieving better learning outcomes.
