3. develop a sense of reverence and humility for the significance of Earth Science, and appreciate the work of a Geologist in advancing our society and civilization.

◆ Introduction

You might have studied Geography at school, but have you ever heard of Earth Science? Wonder no more, because this talk is going to tell you all about it! Nowadays, Earth Sciences has consistently been a critical component at the core of the researches and discussions regarding environmental management, sustainable development, and the pursuit of a better future for humankind. This talk will give you a brief introduction on the concepts of Earth Science and how can it be applied in or affect our society, as well as giving you a chance to interact with actual Geologists and ask more about this industry.

We are honoured to have Ms. Trudy Kwong as our speaker. Ms. Kwong graduated from the University of Hong Kong with a Master of Philosophy in Earth Sciences, and a Bachelor in Earth Sciences with first class honours. She has been a professional Geologist for over 10 years, and is also a lecturer of HKU's Department of Earth Sciences.

This talk is related to a three-phases advanced programme Environmental Science Course (Level IV): Earth Science and its links with our lives (A4ENV004C-006C), for details, please click here.
