◆ Introduction

Question! What is the common ground among Sanxingdui, Eileen Chang and Sun Yat-sen? You can find out the answers in this course! Eileen Chang and Dr Sun Yat-sen were alumni of The University of Hong Kong (HKU), the first local university, the Main Building features Edwardian architecture with the characteristics of the post-Renaissance period, and some buildings are declared monuments. On the other hand, post-war additions have blended elements of traditional Chinese architecture.

The Hong Kong Palace Museum (HKPM) is where a local perspective and a global vision are displayed around a thousand artifacts from the Palace Museum. The recent “Sanxingdui” exhibition presents the advanced ancient culture in the Chengdu Plain and they are the first time in a major exhibition outside of Sichuan.

This course not only leads students to visit various exhibitions in HKPM, including the antiquities from the Sanxingdui archaeological site; it will also explore the inseparable relationship between HKU and Hong Kong history.
