Gifted Programme Introduction

Ethics is the philosophical discipline concerned with questions of how people ought to act. The nature of moral principles are not abstract principles but rather a practical guide, in which we can examine what we believe to be the right action analytically, and how to live together in diverse societies and develop a sense of belonging to a community.

The purpose of this course is to encourage students to engage in a discussion focusing on what they believe makes an action right or wrong and learn how to provide reasons to support their claims. The course is designed in discussion-based the scenes from the films screened in each class are used as experiments that encourage students to discover issues with the ethical principles they learned in the class.
