Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the programme, participants should be able to:

- Understand the structure of the railway industry in Hong Kong;
- Exhibit an understanding of railway operations;
- Identify the key systems in railway industry;
- Acquire fundamental skills necessary for train and station operations personnel.

◆ Gifted Programme Introduction

This programme is designed to provide participants with an understanding of the Hong Kong's railway industry, including an overview of MTR railway operations, and the key systems that support the railway operations. Finally, participants will be given an opportunity to gain hands-on experience in train and station operations through role-play exercises and train driving simulations, giving them a taste of what it's like to be a station staff and a train captain.
