◆ Gifted Programme Introduction

“Student-led, creating impact!” Students can become designers of their own learning journeys!

If you are passionate about STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics) and enjoy sharing, this is your chance! This programme enables you to become a learning designer, planning themes, creating content, and delivering engaging lectures or workshops. Whether it's AI programming, sci-fi art, or fascinating knowledge not found in textbooks, as long as you have enthusiasm, this is your creative laboratory!

“He who teaches, who learns”— you will not only share knowledge but also build confidence in your presentation and leadership skills, igniting unique collaborative learning with your talented peers! After sharing within the academy, you can also connect with the community, spreading knowledge to others.

Learning is no longer just about meeting personal interests or academic requirements; it can also be a fun journey and a fantastic opportunity to connect with peers and the community.
